Dear McLean Patients, Residents and Families,

We are writing to you today to make you aware of an asymptomatic employee who received a positive test result for the COVID-19 virus during our weekly surveillance testing. This employee is isolating at home.

Contact tracing results determined that this employee has not been in contact with patients or residents during the potential exposure timeframe, and any staff members who were potentially exposed have been individually notified by our care team.

All small group activities, including dining, as well as inside, outside and virtual visits will proceed as planned.

We will continue with our weekly surveillance testing strategy and will report any positive results to you. Per protocol, any resident who exhibits COVID-19 symptoms will be tested.

We are committed to the highest level of safety and protection. Our appropriate use of PPE and diligent hand hygiene remain in full effect.

Thank you for your patience and support as we work diligently to protect our precious population. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out to us directly.

Be well.
