My Cousin Vinny (1992). Bill Gambini and Stanley Rothenstein are two friends driving to UCLA through the south. Stopping at a convenience store in Alabama to pick up a few snacks they are arrested for murder and robbery. Worse, they are facing execution for this crime. Bill and Stan do not have enough money for a lawyer, so the good news is that Bill has a lawyer in his family, his cousin, Vincent. The bad news is that Vinny is an inexperienced lawyer who has not been at a trial and must defend his clients against an uncompromising judge, some tough locals, and even his fiancée, Mona Lisa Vito, who just does not know when to shut up, to prove his clients' innocence.
